THE KINDRED EXECUTIVE

We're inviting you to meet with like-minded professionals from various backgrounds and industries, to collaborate and share best practice as well as work through common challenges in real time. This twelve-month journey will raise your leadership profile, see you produce transformational results, identify & satisfy more than 70% of your top motivators and align a career path that feels more meaningful and congruent with who you really are.

Your Challenges:

- You feel unheard and disconnected
- You feel a lack of purpose
- You are unable to showcase your strengths
- You don't get time out to develop skills
- You rarely network outside of your workplace
- You seldom meet with likeminded people who share similar challenges
- You are time poor and have limited space for high order thinking

What You'll Get:

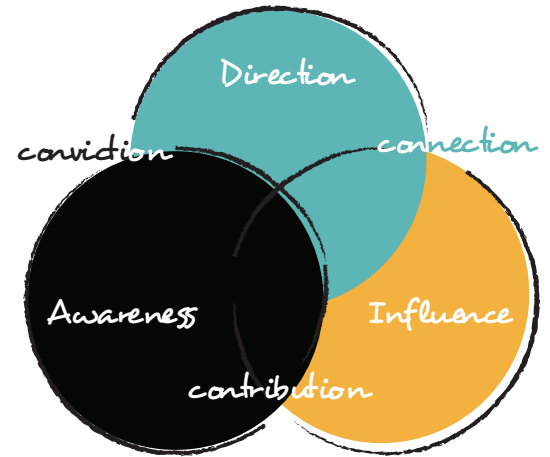

- Unique perspectives to your own development
- Be inspired by others
- Learn new things about your own leadership capabilities and aptitudes
- Look at organisations who have solved or are part way through solving similar problems
- Through collaboration, develop deeper skills in empathy and communication
- Be part of an instant network of prominent leaders within their industries
- Honest feedback without corporate ego or politics
- Clarity and focus around your top motivators
- Investment in time with amazing speakers and mentors

The Kindred Executive is a cohort of prominent leaders within the industries they serve.

How it works:

We believe in collaboration on a larger scale and also in intimate groups, with people that you can grow with throughout the year. With this in mind the program is designed to give you exposure at 3 levels incorporating the themes as outlined in this model.

The design of the program creates an intimate space for knowledge sharing and inspires innovation by leaders getting to bring their whole self, stepping into service and lifting those around them to be better than yesterday.
